Camp Goals:

This 4 day camp will be structured to improve each player's game on a number of different levels. Due to the structure of the age groups, one of the best things about this camp is that your child will receive ample individual attention from instructors and camp workers regardless of their age and skill level. Individual instruction is a method of coaching and teaching in which Coach Tooley takes great pride in applying to her coaching style.

It is our priority to ensure that each player leaves our gym at the conclusion of every session with more confidence, knowledge and love for the game of basketball than when they came to us.

There are many aspects to the game of basketball. Each day will have a focus skill set the instructors will deliver. Dribbling and ball handling skills, passing, shooting, defensive techniques and game like situations are all covered throughout the camp. Small group, whole group and individual station work will be conducted through a series of drills, competitions and full court games.
